

IS YOUR LIFE SILVER GREY?

Recent surveys find 24.5 percent of all cars are silver grey. This means almost a quarter of all cars in the world and their owners go unnoticed because of their profound silver greyishness.

“How’s life?” “Great, it’s silver grey.”

Just when exactly did silver grey become anyone’s favorite color at all?

It must have happened after kindergarten as we have never seen silver grey Berts and Ernies.

Perhaps it’s because there are already so many silver grey cars around.

Because most people tend to like what everybody else likes.

But isn’t that a pity? Just think about it: if everybody would always follow the herd we would never have had things like cell phones, airplanes or cars.

Be they silver grey or otherwise.
